Dear Rep. Nathanson,

I do not know how many other bills may be on the table regarding the quality of our air, but I ask you to support HB 2269, which I understand is a very small step in the direction of regulating air toxins. I live in a neighborhood of Eugene which is known for its bad air from factories with belching smokestacks. I am told that I should be careful in eating the food I produce in my organic garden, as it is likely polluted from these sources (a local nursery director told me this). This is unacceptable.

Please stand up to the usual industry pressure, which is counter to public health.

Thank you.
