

One of my tenants is a taxi driver. Most of his rides resulted from bars, restaurants, airport, Shakespeare, Britt, etc. Most of his income is gone. He is an entrepreneur. I hope he gets a disaster check. $1000 doesn't go far, but it does help.

The property from which he rents has a mortgage. Rents are used to make the mortgage payment. Assisting the tenant is most desirable, but please don't forget about the landlord with the mortgage payment. All that would do is pass the problem down the line.

Bank of America is not going to forget about us -- the landlord.
