WHAT THE MEASURE DOES: Authorizes the placement of video lottery game terminals in establishments holding a brewery-public house license issued by the Oregon Liquor Control Commission.

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

- History behind the measure
- Additional cost to the brewpub owner in obtaining an additional license
- Estimated 60 establishments in Oregon holding both a brewery-public house license and a restaurant license; 22 licensees operating video lottery terminals
- Societal costs from gambling addiction

EFFECT OF COMMITTEE AMENDMENT: No amendment.

BACKGROUND: Current statute requires brewpub proprietors to obtain a limited on-premises license in addition to their brewery-public house license in order to have video lottery terminals on their premises. HB 2446 removes the requirement of obtaining a limited on-premises license and adds a brewery-public house licensee to the list of Oregon Liquor Control Commission licensees who are allowed to operate video lottery terminals.

A business that operates under a brewery-public house license manufactures, as well as sells, malt beverages. The measure does not change current provisions restricting the placement of terminals to a "No Minors" area.
