36 (3) A person may not keep an exotic animal in this state for more than 30 days after the expi-
37 ration, revocation or suspension of a permit.

38 SECTION 6. ORS 609.335 is amended to read:

39 609.335. [(1) The State Department of Agriculture shall issue permits for the keeping of exotic an-
40 imals, as defined in ORS 609.305.]

41 [(2)] (1) The [department] State Department of Agriculture shall adopt reasonable rules for 42 issuing permits to keep exotic animals and establishing conditions thereof. The conditions shall be 43 directed toward ensuring the health, welfare and safety of the animals and, where necessary, the 44 security of facilities in which the animals are kept so as to avoid undue physical or financial risk
45 to the public. The rules shall be no more restrictive upon keepers of exotic animals than is reasonably necessary to carry out [subsection (1) of this section and] the purposes of ORS 609.309.

[(3) A separate permit shall be required for each species of exotic animal kept. A permit shall be valid for a period of two years from the date of issue and may be renewed.]

[(4) The department may charge a fee for the issuance and renewal of permits under this section. The fee shall not exceed $300 for each issuance and $100 for each renewal.]

(2) The department may charge a fee to renew an exotic animal permit described in ORS 609.319. The fee may not exceed $100. A permit renewal is valid for two years.

[(5)] (3) The department may revoke a permit upon finding a violation of rules adopted under this section, or the department may issue a finding of violation and a warning to remedy the violation by a specified date.

SECTION 7. (1) Notwithstanding ORS 609.319, if an exotic animal for which a person possesses a valid State Department of Agriculture permit is gestational on the effective date of this 2007 Act, the department may issue the person a temporary authorization to possess the resulting offspring.

(2) To obtain a temporary authorization under this section, the person must apply to the department no later than 30 days after the effective date of this 2007 Act. The application must include a statement by a licensed veterinarian verifying that the exotic animal is gestational. The statement by the veterinarian must include an estimate of the remaining gestation time and the length of time that the offspring may be expected to be dependent on the mother.

(3) The department may impose a fee for the temporary authorization of not less than $100 and not more than $300.

(4) Subject to subsection (5) of this section, the department shall establish the term of the temporary authorization to cover the period that the offspring may be expected to be dependent on the mother. In establishing the term of the temporary authorization, the department shall consider the statement by the veterinarian described in subsection (2) of this section. No later than 10 days after the expiration of the temporary authorization, the person shall provide proof to the department that all of the offspring have been relocated outside the state or are in the possession of an entity described in ORS 609.315.

(5) The department may not issue a temporary authorization under subsection (4) of this section later than two years after the effective date of this 2007 Act.

SECTION 8. (1) Notwithstanding ORS 609.319, the State Department of Agriculture may issue an exotic animal permit for an animal of the order Crocodylia to a person if the person applies for the permit on or before the 60th day after the effective date of this 2007 Act and submits proof satisfactory to the department that the person possessed the animal on the date immediately prior to the effective date of this 2007 Act.

(2) The department may charge a fee of $300 to issue the permit.

(3) A permit issued under this section shall be treated for all purposes in the same manner as an exotic animal permit originally issued before the effective date of this 2007 Act.

SECTION 9. This 2007 Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is declared to exist, and this 2007 Act takes effect on its passage.
