This bill has a potential indeterminate fiscal impact on the State Board of Pharmacy. The State Board of Pharmacy estimates that this bill could cost up to $98,450 in the 2009-11 biennium. Estimated costs include the development of new rules, and printing, mailing and storing new forms ($10,000). There could be up to $47,250 in additional staff costs for the various activities required to write rules, process public records requests, and process the licensing requirements and paperwork. Other estimated costs, assuming violations and complaints, include approximately $27,720 for Attorney General services, such as rule-making and representation in case of violations, and $12,480 for Hearings Officer cost for violations.
