SECTION 12. (1) In any personal injury action against a health care provider based on the provision of medical care or the failure to provide medical care, a plaintiff may not recover noneconomic damages in an amount that exceeds the limitation imposed under subsection (2) of this section for all claims arising from personal injury to any one patient regardless of the number of health care providers against whom the claim is asserted, or the number of separate claims brought with respect to the injury. The limitation imposed by this section applies to actions brought by injured patients, actions brought by the legal representatives of patients and actions brought by persons claiming loss of consortium or loss of care, comfort, companionship or society.

(2) The limitation on noneconomic damages imposed under this section for claims arising in calendar year 2011 is $1 million. The adjusted limitation applies to all claims arising in the calendar year in which the adjustment is made.

(3) The limitation imposed by this section applies to all subjective nonmonetary losses suffered by the plaintiff, including but not limited to pain, mental suffering, emotional distress, loss of care, comfort, companionship and society, loss of consortium, inconvenience and interference with normal and usual activities apart from gainful employment.

(4) The limitation on noneconomic damages imposed by this section applies only to a health care provider acting within the scope of the health care provider's license.
