WHAT THE MEASURE DOES: Continues the limitation of 60 days that a court can impose as a sanction on a person who has received a sentence of presumptive probation and has violated the conditions of that probation unless the person was convicted of a new crime. Applies to crimes committed after July 1, 2011. Effective upon passage.

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

- Efficient use of resources

EFFECT OF COMMITTEE AMENDMENT: No amendment.

BACKGROUND: Section 32 of House Bill 3508 (2009 session) limits a court to imposing no more 60 days of incarceration as a revocation sanction on a person sentenced under sentencing guidelines to a term of presumptive probation. This provision sunsets on July 1, 2011.
