

Sue House 11/21/2008 9:55 AM >>>

And thank you, David, for being a strong advocate for this program. David was instrumental in helping students get their cards in on time, recruiting students, and encouraging their involvement.

Outdoor School benefits from the unique gifts of Madison students, and our students benefit from this frequently life-altering experience. They return knowing they have something to offer and are capable of handling great responsibilities while maintaining their calm in the midst of a pile of 6th-graders (just ask them what a beezee is...). Often this self-confidence results in a renewed commitment on their part to do well in school and gives them hope for the future. Thank you to all of the teachers who support them, in spite of their occasional difficulties making up missed work!

Sue

>>> "David Colton" <dcolton@pps.k12.or.us> 11/20/08 7:13 PM >>>

Another reason to be proud of our students is the praise they receive upon completion of the Fall Sessions of Outdoor School. There were more applicants than ever and of those selected all received option for credit based on their skills and participation during the week of Outdoor School. After reading all of the evaluations of our students it is apparent that we have a very special group of students who love to teach, share community and spend time with the 6th graders from our county schools. All of our students received such high praise from their evaluators. Please take a moment to congratulate these fine young people. Thanks, David C. Outdoor School Rep and Counselor

Madison-staff-list mailing list

Madison-staff-list@mailman.pps.k12.or.us

<https://mailman.pps.k12.or.us/mailman/listinfo/madison-staff-list>