CENTERS

Testimony given before the Joint Ways and Means Human Services Subcommittee of the Oregon State Legislature

Presented by Jeanne Farr

President, Disability Services and Strategic Projects

Albertina Kerr Centers

March 21, 2013

Co-Chair Bates, Co-Chair Nathanson and members of the committee - thank you for the opportunity to testify before you today. My name is Jeanne Farr. I work for Albertina Kerr Centers, a non-profit social service organization, serving Oregon's most vulnerable citizens since 1907.

I speak to you today, also, as a very engaged family member within this system as my brother and nephew each experience developmental disabilities and as a proud member of the Oregon Rehabilitation Association, representing about 75 community programs serving over 4000 people with developmental disabilities and more than 10,000 employees who provide their care.

We are here to share some personal stories that reflect what we all face as we struggle to do critically important work with diminishing resources. In this industry, we are utterly dependent upon the decisions you make which drive the rates paid by the state. The combination of no Cost of Living Adjustment since 2008 and a 6% rate reduction in 2010, has resulted in smaller organizations going out of business and an increasingly fragile system of care.

I am responsible for about 600 direct service professionals. The starting wage is $10 an hour. We fully cover employee health benefits, but do not insure families. Not one of those over 600 people can afford to pay for family coverage. In our industry, full health coverage, even for just the employee, has become very rare – nearly all others pass part of the cost on to their employees, some of whom can't even afford to purchase insurance at all.

One thing that every one of us, on this planet, has in common is that if we live long enough, will be become truly vulnerable and our lives, safety and well being will be in the hands of a caregiver.

When that happens, a daily reality for many of the people we support, we will entrust our hearts and our bodies to professional caregivers. We can only hope and pray that those people are not distracted because of: a sick child they cannot afford to take to the doctor, or - because they are trying to figure out how to feed their children without electricity since there was no money to pay the bill, or - worrying about their young child home alone because they cannot pay for day care, or - what will happen to their kids if they become ill, since they cannot afford to buy their own medications.

The picture you have before you is of Angie and Earl. They have lived in the community in their home for over 25 years. Our staff provide community, stability and a sense of belonging in a world that is not always kind to them. It is our staff who tenderly turns Angie in the middle of the night, so she won't get bed sores, and helps Earl with his most intimate personal care. When an employee suddenly leaves because they cannot afford to keep working for us, Angie faces a stranger in the middle of the night who hasn't learned how to move her in the tender and careful manner that takes time to cultivate.

People like Angie and Earl take it personally when people leave and wonder if they did something wrong. Time and time again, I have seen people fall into serious depression because of their loss of a loved one.

I fully appreciate the gravity of the decisions before you.

We have been working with the Oregon Rehabilitation Association to estimate what it would take to stabilize our 24-hour comprehensive services system. Our estimate, and request to you, is an addition of $15 million in General Fund for the coming biennium.

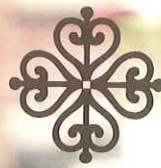

We cannot afford the impact of continued erosion in our service system. The working poor of Oregon will get more desperate. Their ability to focus and be present as they care for people whose basic health and safety is dependent upon their competent and loving care will be compromised.

How could it not be?

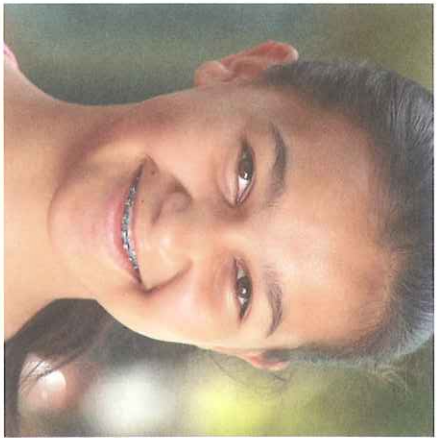

Thank you for the opportunity to testify before you today. With enormous respect for each of you, I wish you well as you face the decisions before you.

Where families are supported

For more than 105 years, Albertina Kerr has been strengthening families and communities in Oregon. This past year, we have added to our own Kerr family with new programs, new group homes and reimagined volunteer endeavors. While finding a fiscal balance with fewer resources, Albertina Kerr has managed to take advantage of exciting opportunities that presented themselves – opportunities that hold great promise for empowering those we serve to live richer lives.

In this report, you'll read about our new additions and the long-term commitment of Albertina Kerr to serve the most vulnerable. None of that would be possible without you – our donors, volunteers, employees, families, partners and the community. The Albertina Kerr family is stronger than ever. By joining our Army of Angels, you ensure that we will fulfill that promise for generations to come.

OUR MISSION
Albertina Kerr partners with families and the community to support people with developmental disabilities and mental health challenges to lead self-determined lives and realize their full potential.

OUR VISION
All children and adults with developmental disabilities and mental health challenges will thrive in nurturing homes and inclusive communities.

Priscilla Lewis, RN, MBA
2011-12 Chair, Board of Directors

Where children have reason to smile

Albertina Kerr provides a wide range of services for children with developmental disabilities and mental health challenges as well as support for their families.

Kerr's programs are unique in Oregon, providing intensive intervention and psychiatric treatment for toddlers, young children and teenagers from 3 years to 17. Many of these children are struggling to function at home, at school or in the community. Kerr provides treatment and skills training geared toward reuniting children with their families when possible and creating new potential for a healthy, productive life for each child.

HOPE FOR THE FUTURE

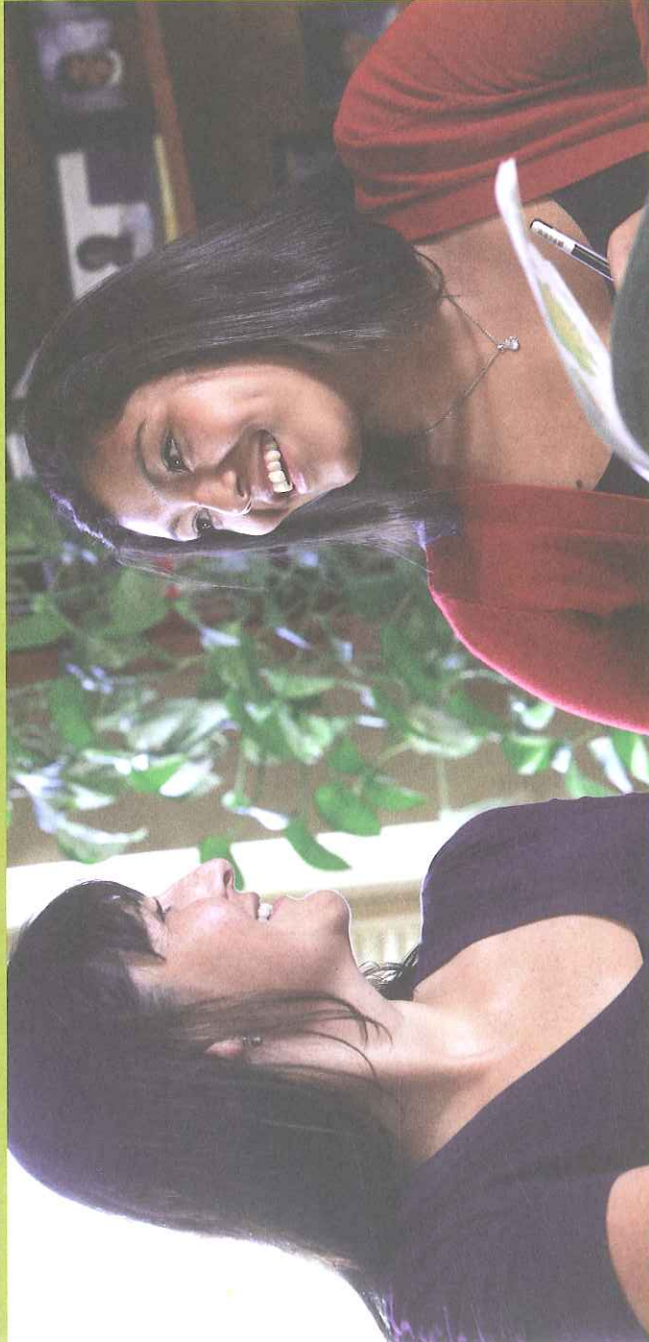

A small town boy from the Oregon Coast, Conner* attempted to commit suicide at age 17. After a frightening trip to the emergency room, he was admitted to the Crisis Psychiatric Care program. His father Frank was concerned that he needed help and hopeful that Albertina Kerr could provide it. "The staff are smart, they are caring, they really make an effort to connect with the kids," said Frank. "They go out of their way to help children and it goes beyond being just a job for them."

Where people are included & empowered

Albertina Kerr provides a wide range of services designed to support people with developmental disabilities. The people Kerr serves have mental and physical disabilities resulting in impairments to daily functioning and include diagnoses such as Down syndrome, autism, cerebral palsy, and epilepsy. They receive care, skills training and support for community involvement in their homes, in the community and in group homes.

ENRICHING LIVES

In 2012, Albertina Kerr added to its community inclusion offerings with the acquisition of three new programs that offer opportunities for people with developmental disabilities to participate in the workforce. Art from the Heart art studio and gallery where 40 to 50 artists work, Cans for Kids recycling program which serves nearly 100 companies in Portland and Salem, and The Snack Squad which stocks treat boxes for more than 300 local businesses.

Rebecca, who has been coming to the studio for more than seven years, enjoys weaving, pottery and painting, especially in the style of her favorite artist, Thomas Kinkade. She's also a fan of the theater program where her great sense of humor shines. Most of all, she enjoys her work because "we do a lot of cool stuff, it's fun. And, I get paid when something sells."

"I've learned coping skills and I can solve problems. I'm listening to people and not ignoring them. That's what I used to do."

IMPROVING THE LIVES OF OREGONIANS IN NEED FOR MORE THAN 100 YEARS

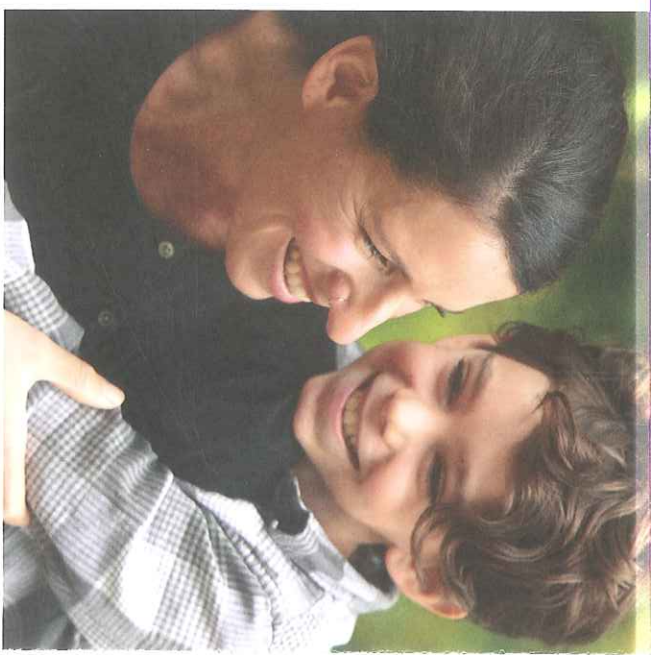

Established in Portland in 1907, Albertina Kerr has long supported children and families from a nursery and adoption center to supported living, employment and life skills training for people with developmental disabilities. Over the decades, our services have evolved to meet community needs. Today, we serve children and adults with mental health challenges and developmental disabilities.

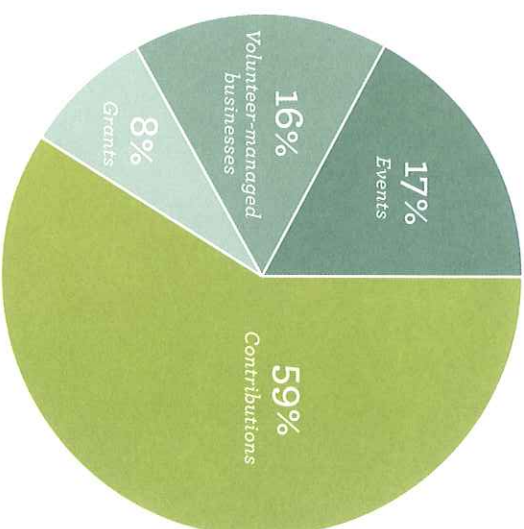

Evolving to meet community needs

In 2011-12, Albertina Kerr continued to evolve to meet community needs – improving and expanding services and facilities for Oregon’s most vulnerable. Here are some highlights:

- Albertina Kerr was named Oregon’s 2nd most admired non-profit in a survey by the Portland Business Journal of more than 1,800 CEOs and business leaders.
- Kerr acquired three new community inclusion programs that provide workforce opportunities for people with developmental disabilities: Art from the Heart, Cans for Kids and The Snack Squad.
- Albertina Kerr entered into a partnership with several other non-profits to expand the Project SEARCH employment program for adults with developmental disabilities into Oregon with a target launch of 2013.
- To improve efficiencies, Kerr partnered with Trillium Family Services to share technology staff and consolidated our Eugene offices.
- Two new youth group homes were purchased and renovated. In addition, the Intensive Treatment Program received a much needed renovation and an adult group home in Silverton transitioned from state management to Albertina Kerr.
- And to lead Albertina Kerr into the future, the board of directors and foundation trustees developed the long-term strategic plan for 2012-2016 based on the key pillars of a thriving workforce, operational viability and leadership and agility.
