

ODFW's Transgenic Fish Policy

635-007-0595

Fish that have been modified through genetic engineering and released into wild populations have the potential of causing adverse ecological and genetic impacts. The Department shall consider the release of transgenic fish to pose a serious risk to wild populations. The Department shall not authorize the release of transgenic fish into such locations where fish may gain access to wild fish populations.

Authorized 6.1.92