AMEND THE OREGON CONSTITUTION

MAKE IT A RIGHT TO HUNT, FISH & TRAP

Though hunting, fishing & trapping has long been a part of America's heritage, the "right" to hunt, fish and trap has recently come into question by many anti-hunting organizations. In order to establish what has been assumed for centuries, 17 states have secured amendments to their state constitutions that give citizens the right to hunt, fish and trap in a responsible, science-based, manner. We want Oregon to be next!!

SPORTSMEN SPEND $90 BILLION ANNUALLY. That's more than the combined 2011 global revenues for Apple's iPhone and iPad.

THE LANGUAGE:

"Individuals in this state have the right to hunt, to fish, to trap and to harvest wildlife, including the use of traditional methods, subject to the laws enacted by the Legislative Assembly and rules adopted by state agencies that promote sound wildlife conservation and management. This section may not be construed to abrogate any public or private property rights or the sovereignty of this state over its natural resources."

MAKING IT A RIGHT TO HUNT, FISH & TRAP WOULD:

- Preserve the state's power to regulate these activities for scientific - not political or emotional - reasons.
- Recognize hunting, fishing & trapping as a preferred means of managing wildlife in order to protect against dangerous contraception schemes and unwarranted use of government "sharpshooters."
- Recognize the rights of an individual to hunt, fish, trap and harvest wildlife.
- Protect over $1 Billion Dollars a year spent by sportsmen and women in Oregon.
- Protect over 15,000 existing jobs and allow the creation of thousands more.
