Kimberly Johnson, Director and Partner – Aveda Institute Portland/Dosha Salon Spa

- My name is Kimberly Johnson. I am the Director of, and a partner at, the Aveda Institute Portland. We are a cosmetology school in Portland and have been in business for the past 5 years. In that time, I'm proud to say that we have graduated over 500 students and employed more than 60 people.
- I also serve as the Director of Business Development for DoshA Salon Spa. DoshA has 5 locations and over 200 employees. In 2012, we grossed approximately 9 million dollars in gross sales.
- In the Cosmetology field alone, there are over 57,937 licensees and 7,302 Independent Contractors.

A few general facts about the Private Career Schools Licensing Unit (PCS)

- PCS supports Small Business Development
 - It currently serves about 224 small Oregon businesses (see attachment A)
 - The school's it oversees offer over 41 programs in many diverse fields, from dental hygienist to commercial truck driver. (see attachment B)
 - Currently has 71,534 graduates who have active licenses in the State of Oregon (see attachment C)
- PCS has many functions but here are a few top offerings.
 - Protection of consumer health by ensuring quality education of our students. All the graduates from PCS schools will come into contact with the general public. Public health safety is a priority.
 - Development of curriculum standardization.
 - Licensing: Initial quality & maintenance of information on school's viability.
 - Maintaining accountability of schools to meet State Rules & Regulations.
 - Handling student complaints. Often providing mediation versus litigation, reducing expenses for both students and schools. This also assists in decreasing drop ratios.
- PCS currently does not receive money from the state's General Fund to maintain operations. Staffing is currently paid through school licensing fees. Please note these licensing funds are procured from the small businesses that PCS represents and NOT the individual students/graduates.

Why is it important to keep Private Career Schools active?

- Private career schools are integral to meet the middle 40% of the “40/40/20 goal” They must be recognized as vital to meeting the goals of 40/40/20. “We define the “middle 40” as 15% with an associate’s degree and 25% with a certificate or other postsecondary credential.” (Oregon Learns: The Strategy to Get to 40/40/20. August 2011).
- Career schools add to Oregon’s workforce
 - The 224 private career schools have collectively produced 75,000 working licensures in Oregon. These are 75,000 individuals represent tax paying members in our communities.
 - The 224 private career schools employ about 3,500 instructors and about 900 administrative and support staff.
- PCS leads standards and outcome-based education. Gainful Employment has hit private career schools fast and furious. PCS schools are currently undergoing GE requirements not required from state funded colleges/non-profit. Hence, PCS is leading the path in understanding the methods to serve students not by how many are enrolled but on how well they are served.
- Career schools create jobs without further cost to taxpayers. As ODE considers innovative funding to meet large future goals in education, it is essential to keep PCS healthy and operational. It is critical to not lose sight of the funding needed and currently being fulfilled by our own licensing fees. Currently, PCS is not funded from the General Fund.
- PCS provides state authorization which is a requirement of many accrediting agencies. Accreditation leads to back to standardization and results driven education.

Support of raising licensing fees:

As a small business owner, it seems like a contradiction to support an increase of my licensing fees; however, I believe PCS is integral in quality control & accountable to students & the Oregon career school community.
