WHAT THE MEASURE DOES: Continues the limitation of 60 days that a court can impose as a sanction on a person who has received a sentence of presumptive probation and has violated the conditions of that probation unless the person was convicted of a new crime. Declares emergency, effective upon passage.

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

- Eliminating the sunset on this provision will allow Oregon to continue to realize the cost savings of this change

EFFECT OF COMMITTEE AMENDMENT: No amendment.

BACKGROUND: This was first passed as section 32 of House Bill 3508 (2009 session). It limited a court to imposing no more than 60 days of incarceration as a revocation sanction on a person sentenced under sentencing guidelines to a term of presumptive probation (except where the revocation was based on the commission of a new crime). Senate Bill 70 would make that temporary limitation, permanent. The current provision sunsets on July 1, 2013, unless extended by this bill.
