Measure Description:

Allows student with disability to earn credit at community college or public university as part of transition services. Allows a city to petition for a boundary change if it is amending its comprehensive plan and land use regulations subsequent to an urban growth boundary expansion. Allows a community college to build a public safety training facility on exclusive farm use land.

Revenue Impact (in $Millions): Indeterminate, see below.

Impact Explanation: The measure would allow a city to petition the district boundary board of a county for a change in boundaries of school districts to reduce total transportation costs or deliver other efficiencies. Properties within a district boundary would pay property tax rates associated with that district. The direction and magnitude of revenue impact would depend on the relative level of property taxes for each district and whether properties affected by the rate changes are in districts with higher rates or lower rates.
