Re: HB 2266

Licensed dealers do test drives of vehicles. They do that as a courtesy to the prospective buyers.

How would you like it if you were thinking of buying a $ 100,000 truck and trailer and could not do a test drive because of rules requiring a payment to the state for a jaunt around the block, or the area around the dealership?

Dealers cannot put product in the big trucks covered under this exemption, only empty trucks and trailers qualify.

Let's let the sales industry work, and when those vehicles start getting used to haul the needs of society, then they will pay their fair share.

Respectfully,
