

Mr. Rhoades: I am writing in opposition to SB941. I believe that this bill will have no affect whatsoever on crime, but will instead create a whole new class of criminals from law-abiding citizens. By definition, criminals do not obey laws, so I see no reason why said miscreants would obey a background check law. Instead, this law will place an undue burden on the public, as well as infringing on our God-give Second Amendment right to keep and bear arms. This law is not about gun safety, it is about control, not of firearms but of the people of the great state of Oregon by the government as envisioned by Michael Bloomberg, whose billions of dollars are no doubt bankrolling this effort as they did in Washington state this past fall with I594.
