

A few years back I was buying a gun at a local store. I filled out the proper application. The store submitted it I was denied. I went home called the OSP the nice lady there looked up my info. she told me a box was incorrectly marked. She corrected it and I was able to purchase the firearm.

This was all due to an incident that occurred 20 some yrs. earlier. Human error would have caused the police to come in and make an embarrassing scene.

Thank you for reading this.
