

To Whom it may concern

I believe that SB-941 is just another way of backdooring a list of people who own guns. Not that they don't already know but why give them the authority to make putting our names on a list legal. I have personally been a party to their shenanigans. I purchased a long gun from Wal-Mart in St. Helens Oregon a while back which I have done many times in the past with no incident. But this time just happened to be around the time of the Sandy Hook incident. As soon as I submitted the paperwork I was told that I would have to wait until the next day to pick up my purchase. So I came back the next day and was told again the next day. This went on for three months until finally a woman from the state police office left a message on my home phone that I could finally go pick up my rifle. The only thing different about this purchase from the many in the past was that the rifle was an AR-15. Now how did they know that? When by Law they are only supposed to know whether or not it is a long gun or a short gun. Three months they made me wait with no explanation what's so ever. I am a veteran who served honorably and by the way had a TOP SECRET security clearance and not one but two honorable discharges from the ARMY.

Thanks for listening
