

One party rule in Oregon has reached the edge of the cliff in dividing urban/ rural Oregonians with the waste-of-time, worthless, and harmful proposed new gun laws. Does anyone with any intelligence believe that bad guys will pay any attention to another gun law? Only law abiding citizens do, but we're getting dangerously close to mass civil disobedience of a bad law, undeserving of being a law. When county sheriffs say they will not enforce it in their county, that's serious, and the question to ask is - WHY? It's a waste of time and resources. It's absolutely unenforceable. It won't accomplish a thing to dissuade bad guys from getting their guns. (Enforcing the felon/firearms laws that are weakly enforced now would be a start!) It will be an impediment on law abiding citizen 2nd Amendment rights. It takes time and resources away from real law enforcement. It sets a bad precedent when citizens don't obey it, and DA's, and police choose not to enforce it. However, if the majority party plan is to "demonize" the opposition, remember, you won't be in power forever, and there is some serious animosity being created here that will be well remembered. No on 941. Best Regards,
