

Honorable Representatives:

This is another voice in opposition to all unnecessary laws and rules which do little more than waste our taxpayers' money and irk the ire of the general population.

SB941 is an emotional response to the problem of crimes of violence, which will do nothing that our current laws and prohibitions now do.

This law, if passed, will not stop those violators who currently ignore existing laws, and will serve to harass the vast majority of law abiding citizens who chose to follow our Constitutions, both federal and state. Furthermore, it will demonstrate that our government is controlled by irrationally thinking individuals, more interested in responding to their own personal feelings than the precepts which were established long ago, and have made our country the most desirable place in the world to live.

Respectfully,

Emil R. Buchser
