Testimony in opposition to HB 2307

After reviewing this bill, I am stunned at the outrageous infringement on parental authority this proposed legislation offers for consideration. The fact that school based clinics among other entities offer counseling services to minors absent parental consent is offensive enough and should be terminated, but to now propose permanent legal barriers between parent and child eliminating the right of a parent to seek professional counseling services for their own child that has had their mind twisted by strangers who have no real authority to speak to a parents child in the first place is breathtaking in its arrogance and so perverted in nature that it betrays a degree of criminality that should be considered prosecutable and may indeed be found to be so upon deeper investigation.

As a parent, I am committed to the defense of children against the encroachments of a government that actively seeks to corrupt the innocence of our youth in its rabid attempts to normalize the blatantly unnatural perversion of same sex attraction and other similarly lurid sexual activities. Regardless of how positively any member of this committee views such deviant sexual proclivities, the simple fact remains that it is none of the governments business how parents chose to train up their children regarding human sexuality.

I strongly advise this committee to remember the LIMITED nature of government and abandon this conceited intrusion into the private lives of Oregon families.

Sincerely; Gordon B. Morrison
