ISSUES DISCUSSED:

EFFECT OF COMMITTEE AMENDMENT: No amendment.

BACKGROUND: Solar photovoltaic (solar PV) systems convert sunlight directly into current that can be used to meet the electricity needs of homes and businesses. Oregon offers a variety of programs to encourage the development of solar PV systems, including net metering, utility incentives, feed-in tariffs, solar capacity standards and state tax credits.

House Bill 2941A would require electric companies to provide a portfolio of rate options to their residential customers that includes an option for electricity associated with specific renewable energy resource, including solar PV systems. The measure also directs the Public Utility Commission to evaluate solar incentive programs and report program recommendations back to the Legislature before September 15, 2016.

The vote count in the Energy and Environment Committee was 8-1, and the House vote count was 58-2.
