

Dear Ms. Reilly,

Please count my voice among those who are adamantly opposed to HB 2509. Organic and GMO farming cannot co-exist -- the GMO "contamination" of organic crops is inevitable under such legislation. The result would be economic devastation to the organic growing/farming industry in Oregon once the organic marketplace learns that cross-pollination with GMO crops has taken place here.

I urge you to do everything in your power to stop this dangerous legislation in its tracks.

Respectfully,

William A. Weil
