

Terry Kalley [terry.kalley@fameds.org]
February 26, 2015

Hi Sam,

From my perspective, the goal is to get more medical options into the hands of desperately ill patients as quickly as possible. I did not see the RTT as an end in itself but just as part of a longer and more meaningful process.

Did I hope that the RTT laws would impact the FDA in a positive way? Absolutely.

RTT laws lack "teeth" in the sense that a) the drug companies are not compelled to make their products available and b) the insurance companies are not compelled to provide coverage. So they do not provide the full answer that I would like to see. But they are a step in the right direction.

Regards,

Terry

Terrence D. Kalley
Freedom of Access to Medicine (FAMEDS)
Cell: +1.248.761.8215