BACKGROUND:

After 44 seasons and over 1,000 wins, Coach Daniel J. “Danny” Miles announced that he will retire in 2016 from coaching the men’s basketball team at the Oregon Institute of Technology.

During his time as the coach for the Hustlin’ Owls, Coach Miles has led the team to three National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) Division II national championships; and to an unprecedented four straight Cascade Collegiate Conference regular season championships. Coach Miles was inducted into the Oregon Sports Hall of Fame in 1996 and named the NAIA National Basketball Coach of the Year in 2004 and 2008. In 2010, he traveled with other Athletes in Action (AIA) staff to Kenya and Rwanda to host basketball clinics and was subsequently selected as Head Clinician for AIA.

House Concurrent Resolution 5 honors Coach Daniel Miles for his career and achievements.
