No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

ORS 137.225 authorizes the court to set aside, or “expunge,” certain criminal convictions. The statute establishes rules for which offenses may be expunged, as well as the process one follows in seeking an expungement. In State v. Saunders, 195 Or. App. 357 (2004), the Oregon Court of Appeals issued an opinion stating that a finding of guilty except for insanity (GEI) is not a conviction. It is therefore ineligible for expungement.

Section 1 of House Bill 2557 A authorizes the court to expunge adult GEI adjudications. The bill adopts criteria and procedures from ORS 137.225. Offenses eligible under ORS 137.225 are eligible under this bill. When an order setting aside a GEI adjudication is granted, the person is no longer legally deemed to have been found GEI. The bill requires the court to inform people that their right to possess, purchase, or acquire a firearm is still prohibited under federal law. The court retains jurisdiction to unseal and disclose records relating to GEI adjudication in civil actions in which truth is a defense or criminal cases when the moving party shows good cause.

In addition, Section 2 of House Bill 2557 A adds language to ORS 419A.260 and authorizes the expunction of juvenile adjudications of responsible except for insanity.
