No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

In 2011, the Legislative Assembly passed Senate Bill 412, which provides tribal law enforcement officers in Oregon the same arrest and police powers as other state, local, and special police officers. At the time Senate Bill 412 was passed, a sunset provision taking effect on June 30, 2015, was included.

Senate Bill 343 repeals the sunset provision contained in Senate Bill 412.
