6 to read:

7 238A.230. (1) If a member of the pension program who is vested dies before the member's effec-
8 tive date of retirement, the Public Employees Retirement Board shall pay the death benefit provided 9 for in this section to:

10 (a) The spouse of the member [or] to the extent not provided to a former spouse in ac-
11 cordance with a judgment or order under ORS 238.465;

12 (b) The former spouse of the member as provided in a judgment or order under ORS 13 238.465; or

14 (c) Any other person who is constitutionally required to be treated in the same manner as a

16 (2)(a) The death benefit to be paid under this section shall be for the life of the spouse, former 17 spouse or other person who is constitutionally required to be treated in the same manner as a 18 spouse, and shall be the actuarial equivalent of 50 percent of the pension that would otherwise have 19 been paid to the deceased member.

20 (b) For the purpose of paragraph (a) of this subsection, the amount of the pension that would 21 otherwise have been paid to the deceased member shall be calculated:

24 (B) As if the member became an inactive member on the date of death and thereafter retired 25 at the earliest retirement date if the member dies before the earliest retirement date for the member 26 under ORS 238A.165.

NOTE: Matter in boldfaced type in an amended section is new; matter [italic and bracketed] is existing law to be omitted.
New sections are in boldfaced type.

1 (3) The death benefit provided under this section is first effective on the first day of the month
2 following the date of death of the member. The surviving spouse, former spouse or other person 3 entitled to the death benefit may elect to delay payment of the death benefit, but payment must 4 commence no later than December 31 of the calendar year in which the member would have reached 5 70-1/2 years of age.

6 (4) Notwithstanding any other provision of ORS 238A.100 to 238A.250, distributions of death 7 benefits under the pension program must comply with the minimum distribution requirements of 26
8 U.S.C. 401(a)(9) and the regulations implementing that section, as in effect on December 31, 2013.
9 The board shall adopt rules implementing those minimum distribution requirements.

10 SECTION 2. ORS 238.465 is amended to read:

11 238.465. (1) Notwithstanding ORS 238.445 or any other provision of law, payments under this 12 chapter or ORS chapter 238A of any pension, annuity, retirement allowance, disability benefit, death 13 benefit, refund benefit or other benefit that would otherwise be made to a person entitled thereto
14 under this chapter or ORS chapter 238A shall be paid, in whole or in part, by the Public Employees 15 Retirement Board to an alternate payee if and to the extent expressly provided for in the terms of 16 any judgment of annulment or dissolution of marriage or of separation, or the terms of any court 17 order or court-approved property settlement agreement incident to any judgment of annulment or 18 dissolution of marriage or of separation. Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, the 19 total actuarial value of benefits payable to a member and to an alternate payee under this section 20 may not be greater than the value of the benefits the member would otherwise be eligible to receive 21 if the annulment or dissolution of marriage or separation had not occurred. Any payment un-22 der this subsection to an alternate payee bars recovery by any other person.

23 (2) A judgment, order or settlement providing for payment to an alternate payee under sub-24 section (1) of this section may also provide:

25 (a) That payments to the alternate payee may commence, at the election of the alternate payee, 26 at any time after the earlier of:

27 (A) The earliest date the member would be eligible to receive retirement benefits if the member 28 separates from service; or

29 (B) The date the member actually separates from service due to death, disability, retirement or 30 termination of employment.

31 (b) That the alternate payee may elect to receive payment in any form of pension, annuity, re-
32 tirement allowance, disability benefit, death benefit, refund benefit or other benefit, except a benefit 33 in the form of a joint and survivor annuity, that would be available to the member under this 34 chapter or ORS chapter 238A, or that would be available to the member if the member retired or 35 separated from service at the time of election by the alternate payee, without regard to the form 36 of benefit elected by the member.

37 (c) That the alternate payee's life is the measuring life for the purpose of measuring payments 38 to the alternate payee under the form of benefit selected by the alternate payee and for the purpose 39 of determining necessary employer reserves.

40 (d) Except as provided in ORS 238.305 (10) and 238.325 (7), that any person designated by the 41 member as a beneficiary under ORS 238.300, 238.305, 238.325, 238A.190 or 238A.400 be changed, even 42 though the member has retired and has begun receiving a retirement allowance or pension. If a 43 change of beneficiary is ordered under this paragraph, the board shall adjust the anticipated benefits 44 that would be payable to the member and the beneficiary to ensure that the cost to the system of 45 providing benefits to the member and the new beneficiary does not exceed the cost that the system

1 would have incurred to provide benefits to the member and the original beneficiary. The judgment, 2 order or settlement may not provide for any change to the option selected by the retired member
3 under ORS 238.300, 238.305, 238.320, 238.325, 238A.190 or 238A.400 as to the form of the retirement 4 benefit.

5 (e) That death benefits under ORS 238A.230 to which the alternate payee has been enti-
6 itled as the spouse of a member shall be available to the alternate payee after the effective 7 date of the judgment of annulment or dissolution of marriage or of separation.

8 (3) The board shall adopt rules that provide for:

9 (a) The creation of a separate account in the name of the alternate payee reflecting the 10 judgment's, order's or agreement's distribution of the member's benefits under this chapter or ORS 11 chapter 238A;

12 (b) The establishing of criteria to determine whether domestic relations judgments, orders and 13 agreements comply with this section; and 14 (c) The definitions and procedures for the administration of this section.

15 (4) An alternate payee may designate a beneficiary for the purposes of death benefits payable 16 under ORS 238.390 and 238.395. Subject to ORS 238A.410 (2), an alternate payee may designate a 17 beneficiary for the purposes of death benefits payable under ORS 238A.410. If the alternate payee 18 fails to designate a beneficiary for the purposes of death benefits payable under ORS 238.390 and 19 238.395, the benefits shall be paid as provided by ORS 238.390 (2). If the alternate payee fails to 20 designate a beneficiary for the purposes of death benefits payable under ORS 238A.410, the benefits
21 shall be paid as provided by ORS 238A.410 (3). If a judgment, order or agreement awards an interest 22 to an alternate payee, and if the alternate payee predeceases the member before the alternate payee 23 has commenced receiving benefits, the alternate payee shall be considered a member of the system 24 who died before retiring for the purposes of the death benefits provided in ORS 238.390, 238.395, 25 238A.230 and 238A.410, but for purposes of the death benefits provided in ORS 238.395, the alternate 26 payee shall be considered a member of the system who died before retiring only if the member would 27 have been eligible for death benefits under ORS 238.395 had the member died at the same time as 28 the alternate payee. Payment of the death benefits to the beneficiaries, estate or other persons en-29 titled to receive the benefits under ORS 238.390, 238.395, 238A.230 and 238A.410, shall constitute 30 payment in full of the alternate payee's interest under the judgment, order or agreement.

31 (5) Any increase in the retirement allowance provided to the member shall increase the amounts 32 paid to the alternate payee in the same proportion, except that:

33 (a) An alternate payee is not entitled to receive cost-of-living adjustments under ORS 238.360 34 or any other retirement allowance increase until benefits are first paid from the system on behalf 35 of the member; and

36 (b) Cost-of-living adjustments under ORS 238.360 or 238A.210 to the retirement allowance paid 37 to an alternate payee shall be calculated on the basis of the amount of the alternate payee's yearly 38 allowance or yearly pension or benefit, as those terms are defined in ORS 238.360 and 238A.210.

39 (6) An alternate payee under this section is not eligible to receive the benefits provided under 40 ORS 238.410, 238.415, 238.420 and 238.440 by reason of the provisions of this section.

41 (7) An alternate payee who elects to begin receiving payments under subsection (1) of this sec-42 tion before the member's effective date of retirement is not eligible to receive any additional pay-43 ment by reason of credit in the system acquired by the member after the alternate payee begins to 44 receive payments.

45 (8) Subsection (1) of this section applies only to payments made by the board after the date of 1 receipt by the board of written notice of the judgment, order or agreement and such additional in-2 formation and documentation as the board may prescribe.

3 (9) Whenever the board is required to make payment to an alternate payee under the provisions 4 of this section, the board shall charge and collect out of the benefits payable to the member and the 5 alternate payee actual and reasonable administrative expenses and related costs incurred by the 6 board in obtaining data and making calculations that are necessary by reason of the provisions of 7 this section. The board may not charge more than $300 for total administrative expenses and related 8 costs incurred in obtaining data or making calculations that are necessary by reason of the pro-9 visions of this section. The board shall allocate expenses and costs charged under the provisions of 10 this subsection between the member and the alternate payee based on the fraction of the benefit 11 received by the member or alternate payee.

12 (10) Unless otherwise provided by the judgment, order or agreement, a member has no interest 13 in the benefit payable to an alternate payee under this section. Upon the death of an alternate 14 payee, the board shall make such payment to the beneficiary designated by the alternate payee as 15 may be required under the form of benefit elected by the alternate payee. If a death benefit is pay-16 able under ORS 238.390 or 238.395 by reason of the death of an alternate payee, payment of the 17 death benefit shall be made to the beneficiary designated by the alternate payee under ORS 238.390 18 (1), or as otherwise provided by ORS 238.390 and 238.395.

19 (11) As used in this section, "court" means any court of appropriate jurisdiction of this or any 20 other state or of the District of Columbia.

21 SECTION 3. ORS 237.600 is amended to read:

22 237.600. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, payment of any pension, annuity, re-23 tirement allowance, disability benefit, death benefit, refund benefit or other benefit under any public 24 employer retirement plan other than the Public Employees Retirement System that would otherwise 25 be made to a person entitled to benefits under the plan shall be paid, in whole or in part, to an al-26 ternate payee if and to the extent expressly provided for in the terms of any judgment of annulment 27 or dissolution of marriage or of separation, or the terms of any court order or court-approved 28 property settlement agreement incident to any judgment of annulment or dissolution of marriage or 29 of separation. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the total actuarial value of 30 benefits payable to a member and to an alternate payee under this section may not be greater than 31 the value of the benefits the member would otherwise be eligible to receive if the annulment or 32 dissolution of marriage or separation had not occurred. Any payment under this subsection to 33 an alternate payee bars recovery by any other person.

34 (2) A judgment, order or settlement providing for payment to an alternate payee under sub-35 section (1) of this section may also provide:

36 (a) That payments to the alternate payee may commence, at the election of the alternate payee,
37 at any time after the earlier of:

38 (A) The earliest date the member would be eligible to receive retirement benefits if the member
39 separates from service; or

40 (B) The date the member actually separates from service due to death, disability, retirement or 41 termination of employment.

42 (b) That the alternate payee may elect to receive payment in any form of pension, annuity, re-
43 tirement allowance, disability benefit, death benefit, refund benefit or other benefit, except a benefit 44 in the form of a joint and survivor annuity, available to the member under the public employer re-45 tirement plan, or that would be available to the member if the member retired or separated from

1 service at the time of election by the alternate payee, without regard to the form of benefit elected 2 by the member.

3 (c) That the alternate payee's life is the measuring life for the purposes of measuring payments 4 to the alternate payee under the form of benefit selected by the alternate payee.

5 (d) That death benefits to which the alternate payee has been entitled as the spouse of 6 a member shall be available to the alternate payee after the effective date of the judgment 7 of annulment or dissolution of marriage or of separation.

8 (3) Subsection (1) of this section applies only to payments made by the public employer retire-9 ment plan after the date of receipt by the administrators of the plan of written notice of the judg-10 ment, order or agreement and such additional information and documentation as the plan 11 administrators may prescribe.

12 (4)(a) A judgment, order or agreement providing for payment to an alternate payee under sub-13 section (1) of this section may not provide for payment to an alternate payee of:

14 (A) Any disability payments provided to a member of a public employer retirement plan in lieu 15 of workers' compensation benefits pursuant to ORS 656.027 (6), to the extent those payments are to 16 be made before the member attains 55 years of age; or

17 (B) Any medical or hospital benefits payable to a member as part of a disability benefit provided 18 to a member of a public employer retirement plan in lieu of workers' compensation benefits pursuant 19 to ORS 656.027 (6), regardless of the member's age.

20 (b) Paragraph (a) of this subsection does not prevent a court from considering the disability 21 payments described in that paragraph in making a division of property pursuant to ORS 107.105 or 22 an award of support.

23 (5) Any public employer or public employer retirement plan that is required by the provisions 24 of this section to make a payment to some person other than a member of the retirement plan of-25 fered by the public employer shall charge and collect out of the benefits payable to the member and 26 the other person actual and reasonable administrative expenses and related costs incurred by the 27 public employer or public employer retirement plan in obtaining data and making calculations that 28 are necessary by reason of the provisions of this section. A public employer or public employer re-29 tirement plan may not charge more than $300 for total administrative expenses and related costs 30 incurred in obtaining data or making calculations that are necessary by reason of the provisions of 31 this section. A public employer or public employer retirement plan that charges and collects ad-32 ministrative expenses and related costs under the provisions of this subsection shall allocate those 33 expenses between the member of the retirement plan and any other person receiving a benefit from 34 the plan based on the fraction of the benefit received by the member or person.

1 237.620. (1) Except as provided in this section, all public employers of police officers or fire-
2 fighters shall provide retirement benefits to those employees under the Public Employees Retirement 3 System.

4 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this section, a public employer of police officers or fire-
5 fighters need not provide retirement benefits to those employees under the Public Employees Re-6 tirement System if the Public Employees Retirement Board determines that the public employer 7 provides retirement benefits to each of the following classes of employees that are equal to or better 8 than the retirement benefits that would be provided to the equivalent classes of employees under the 9 Public Employees Retirement System:

10 (a) Police officers or firefighters who are entitled to receive benefits only under ORS chapter

26 employee, as provided in ORS 237.600.

27 (b) If an employee to whom the public employer provides retirement benefits dies before 28 the employee's effective date of retirement and has a dependent child who is not supported 29 by the former spouse who is treated as the surviving spouse under paragraph (a) of this 30 subsection, the dependent child is entitled to a death benefit.

31 (4) Notwithstanding subsection (3) of this section, a former spouse or dependent child of

42 the review, the board shall determine whether the public employer complies with the requirements 43 of subsection (2) of this section. If the board determines that the public employer does not comply 44 with the requirements of subsection (2) of this section for any class of employees described in sub-45 section (2) of this section, the public employer must provide that class of employees with retirement

1 benefits adequate to meet the requirements of subsection (2) of this section. If the public employer 2 fails to provide those benefits, any employee within the class may bring an action in circuit court 3 to compel compliance with the requirements of this section.
