I am writing in opposition to HB 4063. How can this bill even be legal? The IRS collected more money than the state was entitled to. Rather than return the money to the people who sent it in, you are proposing through this bill to divide the money up equally between everyone who filed a tax return. Many of these people did not pay a penny in taxes. Those who sent in money the state was not entitled to made an overpayment which should be returned to them. The amount of the overpayment was directly related to the amount of taxes paid. This bill is nothing short of stealing money the state should not have received and distributing it to people who had little or no investment in the first place. I urge you to vote no on HB 4063. The overpaid tax dollars belong to the people who sent it in.
