SUPPORT HOUSE BILL 4036: THE CLEAN ELECTRICITY & COAL TRANSITION PLAN

House Bill 4036 will transition Oregon off of coal-fired power while doubling the state's commitment to new renewable energy to 50%. Oregon can remain a national leader in stopping climate change and growing our local, clean energy economy by removing coal from our electricity.

Environmental and consumer advocates, along with utilities, created this plan and agree it will achieve climate protection goals with minimal impact on ratepayers and continued reliability of electricity.
