

The Early Impact of Oregon's ERPO Law

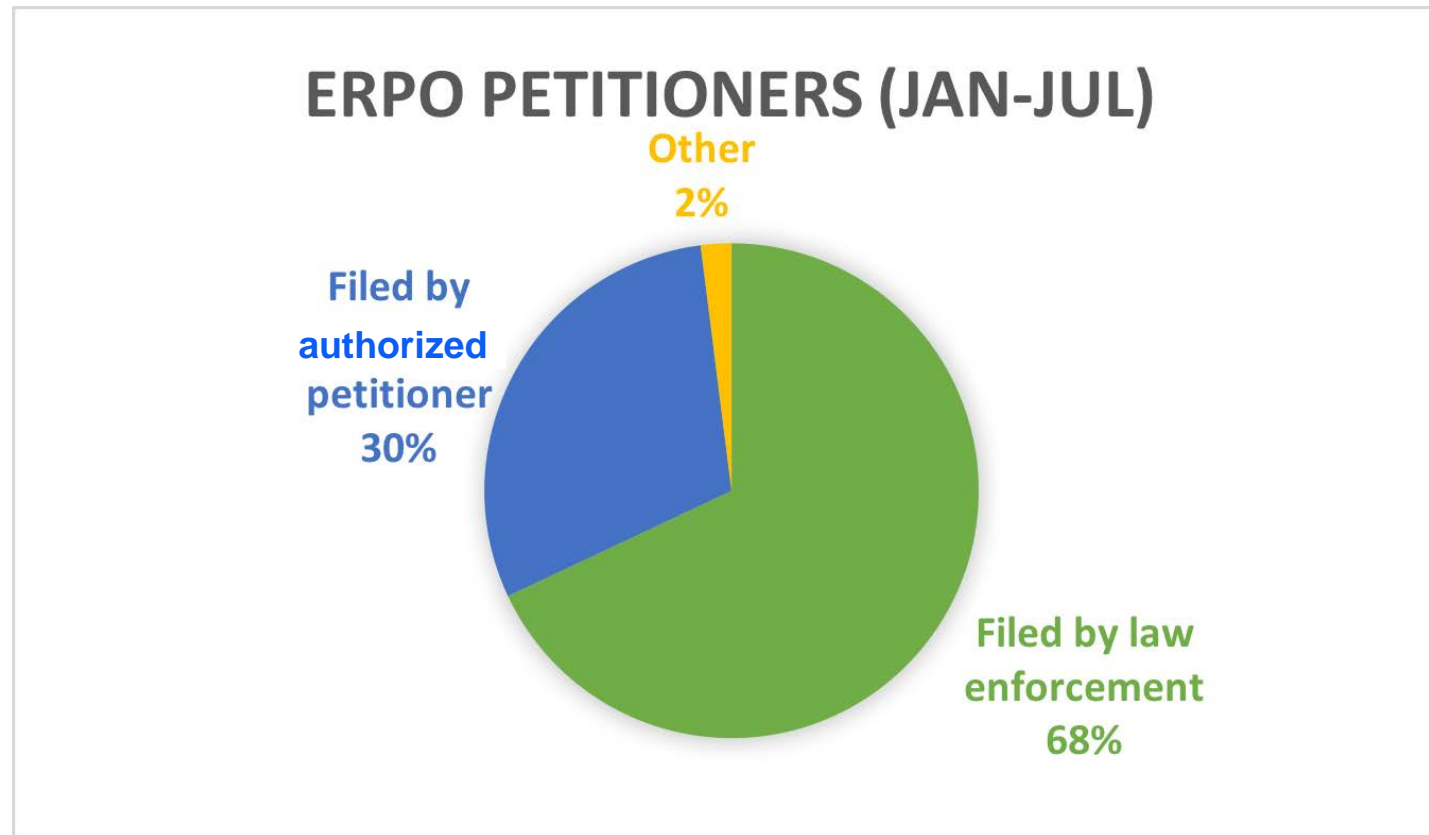

ERPOs enable courts to temporarily remove guns from individuals in crisis

- Access to a gun increases one's risk of death by suicide by 3X
- Access to a gun in a domestic violence situation increases the risk of homicide by 5X
- When ERPOs were studied in Connecticut, researchers found that 1 suicide was averted for every 10 ERPOs

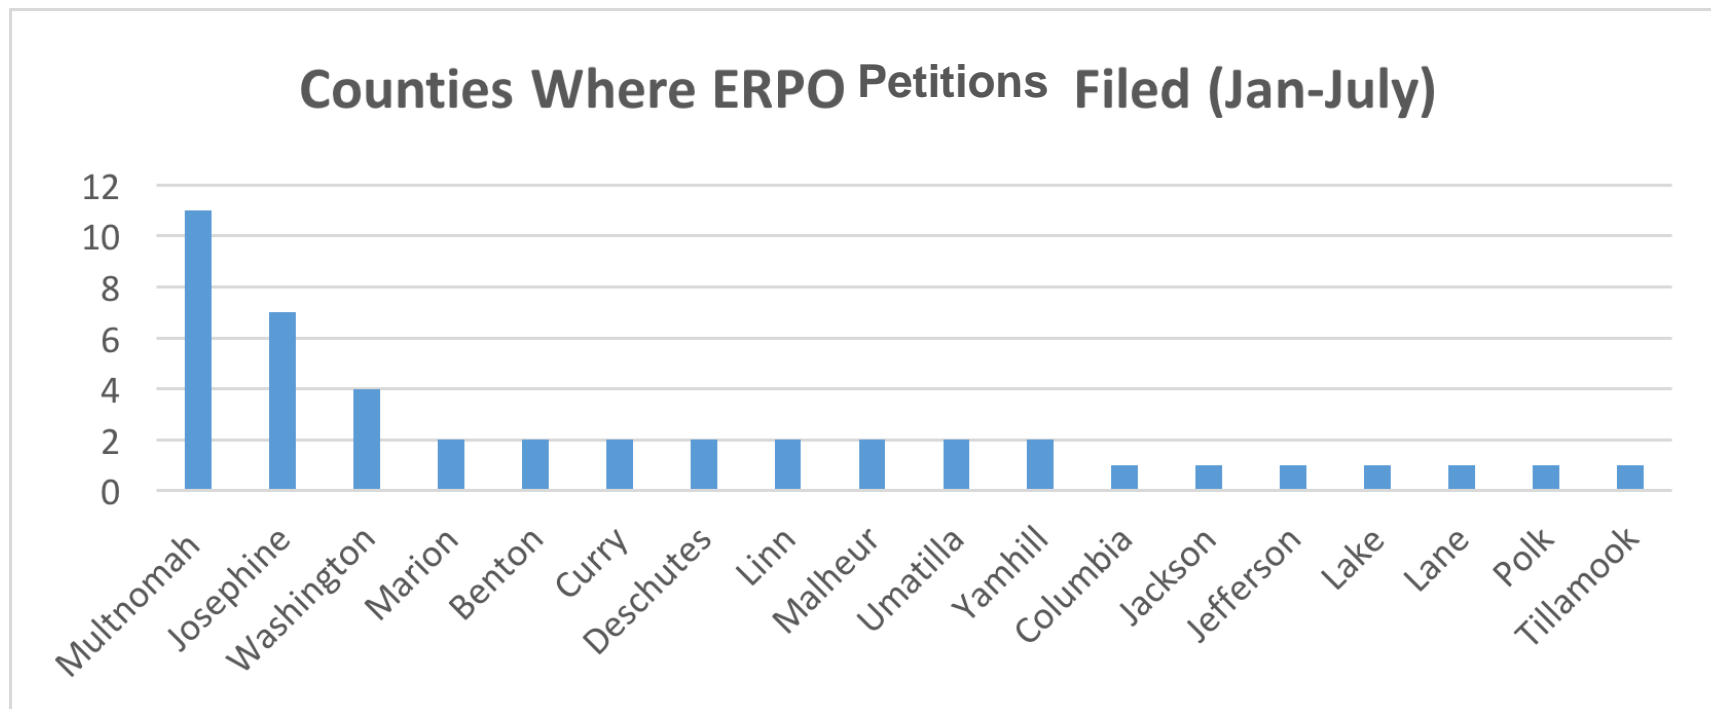

There have been 42 ERPOs granted in OR between January and July 2018

The majority of ERPO petitions have been filed by law enforcement

ERPO petitions have originated in 18 individual counties

ERPOs have been used to remove guns from a range of dangerous situations

- Individuals threatening suicide
- Individuals dangerously wielding or firing guns
- Individuals who have committed domestic violence
