

It is a shame to have to count ourselves in the tally for determining if we have 10 or more employees. As owners of the farm we don't get to take sick leave (unless we can't crawl) much less pay ourselves for it. So having us in the count makes no sense. ALSO it would make it easier to have consistent rules across the table - here we count there we don't - sure hope we don't mess up and cause ourselves more headaches.
