

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing in support of online students being allowed to participate in the sports programs offered by the schools in the district in which they reside. Not only is this a great way for them to get in physical activity and exercise, but it also allows for socialization since that is something that is lacking in an online school environment.

Thanks,

Ellen Craig