

It's time to reform the election system for president so that our votes here in Oregon would matter. All the attention now goes to about 8 or 9 swing states. The President should be elected in the same way as we fill our other offices, and the winner should be the person who receives the most votes.

Respectfully,

Rose Lewis