

Hello Channa Newell,

I would so delighted to hear about this bill. Finally, a way for the farmer to protect himself/herself if they are not wanting to grow GMO crops. I know how frustrating this has been. I have farmer friends and have volunteered on farms. Farming is very labor intensive and you have to love it to do it. To put so much energy and love in to growing excellent food for Oregonians and the world, this type of legislation is sorely needed.

Although I no longer farm I still love to garden and want to keep all my crops GMO free. I hope this bill gets the support that is needed. Let's keep Oregon free of this type of contamination with legislation to back it. Let's hold patent holders responsible.

Sincerely,

Gloria Ellis
