

I do not have a farm, but as a doctor, I'm in the health business. In most cases, a patient's health is directly related to the quality of food they eat. As more info has come out about GMO foods, I'm convinced that consuming GMO foods is not good, or safe, for humans, livestock, or other animals. I believe the patent holders should be held accountable for the damage they are doing to nature and humanity. That appears to be the only way this insanity will finally stop. Thank you!
