BACKGROUND:

Senate Bill 360 directs the Department of Corrections, in consultation with the State Board of Parole and Post-Prison Supervision, the Judicial Department and community service agencies, to create a community service exchange program through rule making. The community service exchange program would allow a person who served a sentence under DOC custody and is on parole or post-prison supervision to enter into a written agreement with a community-based organization to perform community service in lieu of payment of delinquent fees or debts and supervision fees. It also allows for participation in the community service exchange program as an alternative to payment of a court-appointed attorney's fees. SB 360 also defines key terms, such as delinquent fees or debts. It prohibits waiver of fees for restitution, child support obligations, traffic offense fines and the minimum felony and misdemeanor conviction fine. Finally, SB 360 specifies the procedures for administration of this program.
