BACKGROUND:

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) implements Section 8 to assist low income families, the elderly and individuals who are disabled afford rental housing. HUD calculates the payment amounts for Section 8, renewal rent for contracted rentals, rent for housing assistance payment contracts and rent ceiling for the HOME rental assistance program using the fair market rent (FMR) calculation. The FMR is a gross rent estimate based on shelter rent plus the cost of all tenant-paid utilities using census data.

House Bill 2011 directs OHCS to administer study assessing disparities between federal and local FMR calculations. The study would commission an independent research organization to conduct the study and partner with local housing authorities to collect data on local fair market rent estimates.

HB 2011 establishes the Task Force on Housing Authority Capacity to assess housing authority capacity to provide services, determine methods to enhance capacity for housing authority and examine feasibility of implementing state-sponsored housing voucher program.
