BACKGROUND:

Deschutes County received two Technical Assistance Grants from the Department of Land Conservation and Development (DLCD) in 2010 to evaluate Central Oregon's opportunities, competitiveness, and ability to recruit new and locally grown firms requiring new large scale development models. Deschutes County used the grant funding to develop a Regional Economic Opportunity Analysis (REOA). The REOA identified a need for industrial lands of 100-200 acres in size in Deschutes, Jefferson, and Crook Counties. The DLCD subsequently created OAR 660-0024-0040 and 660-024-0045 to allow cities in the Deschutes, Jefferson, and Crook Counties a specific path to include into their urban growth boundary (UGB) three sites of at least 50 acres, 2 sites of between 100 and 200 acres, and one site over 200 acres.

The City of Madras currently owns roughly 1,200 acres of land adjacent to their airport outside of their UGB, with an additional 920 acres of airport property within their UGB. The City has of adding one 195 acre industrial large lot into their UGB near their airport after interest from potential businesses interested in utilizing the site at significant cost.

House Bill 2743 requires the DLCD to establish a pilot program to implement a master plan for economic development on land adjacent to a rural airport and report on that pilot program to the Legislative Assembly in 2022.
