

While I love Border Collies, they would seem to have little connection with Oregon. However, Shelter Rescue Dogs, are a great benefit to the State in that they provide love and support for their adopters while reducing the number of stray animals. Oregon is the home of the Oregon Humane Society one of the Nation's leading animal shelters and from which over 6000 Shelter Dogs are adopted each year.

Sincerely,

Harvey Black
1132 SW 19th Ave, Portland 97205