

House Concurrent Resolution 16

By: Ben Memmott

The bill that I just read suggests that Shelter dogs in the state of Oregon should be the official dog of the state. The reasons for this is because they want people to adopt more dogs because the dogs need to be taken care of more carefully. Dogs who don't get adopted can be put to sleep by the vets because the dogs can't be taken care for any more.

My Persuasive Paragraph

I think you should vote on this because dogs should be adopted and they should not have to be put to sleep. Instead people should adopt the dogs and find a good home for dogs. Shelter dogs should be official dog of Oregon because it helps them get adopted. This happens because if it is the official dog people realise there are a lot of shelter dogs, and they will advertize the dogs more often and how cute they can be, or how helpful the can be. They can even help people with disabilities. That is why I think that shelter Dogs should be the official dog of Oregon
