Subject: Rent

I can't believe what you guys are even thinking I'm 47 years old and never had a problem with renting until I moved to Portland. Lived at my address for nine years prior to non cause eviction which is just a bunch of baloney. It's my wife and I and no children we've never had an issue with police in our lives and are quiet people and deserve to live where we want without being thrown out by greedy landlords. You're so worried about the homeless situation but do nothing about the rent. Are you people really that ignorant or do you just not care about the lives and I'm not talking about living I'm talking about their lives. I've never seen anything in this like my life it's time to take control and help the people don't think about yourself cuz I'm sure you have never been put in that situation before but think about other people the people that support the community the people that buy groceries here the people that pay utilities here the people of America!..... If there is such a place still
