Subject: Another Oregonian in support of HB 2004

In a time of increasing economic and political uncertainty, safe, secure, and stable housing is one of Oregon's largest social justice issues. Assurances that renters won't be exposed to cruel, unnecessary evictions that threaten families' jobs, children's educations, and our community's health and wellbeing are a necessary component of a morally just framework for housing. The stresses and impacts of no cause evictions are well documented and inexcusable in a compassionate, progressive state like Oregon. Senator Courtney, I implore you to ask yourself what side of history you'd like to be on. I urge you to join Community Alliance of Tenants and their advocates in support of Housing Bill 2004.
