Senate Ginny Burdick,

I, Eric J. Rystadt, want to express my complete disbelief in the efforts to stop basic freedoms of working hard and investing time, money and effort to own property and not be allowed to charge what the market with bear.

As with any other business, be it a restaurant, flower shop, or marijuana dispensary, to try go against market forces and handicap the hard working people is not the answer. There should be more emphasis on education and opportunities to assist people to be fully self-responsible. And not usurp the individuals responsibility on his station in life or not respecting his ability to pay for fair exchange for services received as everyone should.

I urge you not to support this

Respectfully,

Eric J. Rystadt
