Subject: Vote No On HB 2927

As a person who does not dwell in Salem, Portland, or Eugene, I know firsthand the effects of distant large populations influencing local policy. We aren't allowed to hunt cougars with dogs, causing them to appear more often and more brazenly, even around the areas we keep our children. Allowing the majority to rule unconditionally is typically a move of tyranny, and the Electoral College is the best institution we have to resist it, so I implore you not to make any moves that are combative against it.
