

To Whom It May Concern:

I am an Oregon voter and a constituent of Rep. Mitch Greenlick and Sen. Elizabeth Steiner Hayward. Nothing would make me happier or prouder than to see this bill make its way to the House and Senate and become law in Oregon.

Every voice, in every state, red or blue, should be heard in national elections. As a voter in a reliably blue state, it's easy to feel like my vote for president doesn't matter. This bill will make everyone's votes matter, not just in Oregon.

Let's leave the Electoral College, a convoluted system invented for slave owners, in the dust where it belongs.

One person, one vote.
