EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

BACKGROUND:

According to the Federal Drug Administration (FDA), about 48 million Americans (about 1 in 6) get sick each year, 128,000 are hospitalized, and 3,000 die as a result of foodborne illnesses. The FDA Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) was signed into law on January 4, 2011. The law focuses on prevention and directs the FDA to develop and implement strategies to better coordinate with and enhance the food safety programs of state and local agencies to achieve national food safety goals.

Senate Bill 18A would designate the Oregon Department of Agriculture as the state agency having primary responsibility to administer and enforce duties, functions and powers imposed on or granted to state agencies under the FSMA.
