

I feel so strongly about this. I'm not just a knee-jerk car-hating liberal but climate change is real and economists agree that a sane market-based approach is needed. And that means taxing the things we need less of. Like driving. A gas tax is simple and fair.

Thank you so much for listening,
Daniel Reeves, PhD
3246 NE 57th Ave
Portland OR 97213

--

<http://dreev.es> -- search://"Daniel Reeves"

Quantified Self + Commitment contracts == <http://beeminder.com>