

As an emergency physician and Portland, I'm seeing an increasing number of traffic accidents and fatalities that could easily be prevented by dedicated bike lanes and pedestrian walkways, rerouting roads to decrease the likelihood of collision. I urge you to find safer traffic routes for our youth and citizens. Portland's population is growing immensely and traffic congestion and safety issues must be addressed before it's too late.

Thank you, Melissa Tom, M.D.

Sent from my iPhone