Senate Rules Committee
OR

Dear Committee,

I've voted in 12 presidential elections. Over time I've been both for and against the Electoral College. The 2016 election made up my mind for good because the EC was proven not to work for its single most important function: to apply the wisdom of excellent citizens as a check against the errors of popular vote. The political conditions no longer permit electors to do this.

Sincerely,

Mr. Bennett Gilbert
